My family came here from Armenia so they could get a better life. It wasn't that hard for them. A new country was not exciting for me, because I was young. I didn't care.

Anonymous, California