

Basically, my mom came from Mexico to the U.S. to look for a job with my family. Then my mom made the decision to stay here, because she thought it was better living in a fast-moving environment. She was 17 years-old when she made that decision. Because she didn't finish high school in Mexico, she decided to finish it here by taking GED classes. Today, she is a successful financial house agent.

Anonymous, California